RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2020

Solaris Investment Management Limited

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2020 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
Ⓜ	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

Solaris picks stocks using fundamental analysis to exploit market inefficiencies in forecasts and valuations.

To optimise the conversion of fundamental research into investment portfolios, we empower our analysts by combining their analytical role with that of portfolio manager. This combination ensures the portfolio is constructed purely from the ground-up using the knowledge and skill of the people at the analytical 'coal face'. Within this process, the analyst actively considers ESG factors as part of the bottom up stock assessment and this assessment directly influences whether the stock is included or excluded from the portfolio.

The analyst is responsible for the stock-picking decision from beginning to end and is held accountable by crystal-clear performance attribution. This performance attribution then drives their annual remuneration outcomes.

SG 02.3 Additional information [Optional].

Solaris Investment Management has an ESG Policy that describes how ESG factors are incorporated into our every day investment decision making. The ESG Policy is an integral part of our investment process. The Solaris team has been actively involved in assessing the impacts of ESG factors for over 20 years (both at Solaris and previously at another funds management group). We have witnessed the impacts of ESG factors on stock valuations and consider ESG factors as another important source of stock value drivers. We see structural shifts occurring in investment markets as sustainability becomes more "front of mind" for investors and believe that understanding ESG factors is key to reducing portfolio risks and identifying investment opportunities as they evolve.

The existing Solaris ESG Policy was first adopted in 2010 and is reviewed and approved by the Solaris Board annually.

Solaris now manages three negatively screened investment products which operate as part of our overall investment process with additional screening applied as per the clients' exclusions. The exclusions are monitored as per the clients' Individual Mandate Agreements (IMAs).

Indicate if your organisation has a policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

 YesSG 03.2

Describe your policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

Conflicts of Interest are specifically dealt with in the Solaris Conflicts of Interest Policy. For Solaris' purposes, a conflict of interest will include any matter which impacts on our ability to ensure that financial services authorised by our licence are provided efficiently, honestly and fairly. Solaris adheres to the principle that the Board will always ensure the Company conducts its financial services business in a fair, honest and professional manner in line with the regulatory objective of ensuring the confident and informed participation of consumers and investors in the Australian financial system. For a disclosure to be adequate it should provide detail in a clear, concise and effective form to allow clients to make an informed decision. Sections 912A(1)(aa) of the Corporations Act 2001, section 601FC(1)(C) and 601FD(1)(c) of the Act describe Solaris' obligations.

LEI 01.2	Describe your organisation's approach to ESG incorporation and the reasons for choosing the particular strategy/strategies.

Our primary reason for choosing screening and integration strategies in relation to ESG factors is that it complements our process and is not seen as an add on, but simply part of our every day process.

Solaris utilises material ESG factors in the same way that our analysts will utilise any material information relevant to a company's operations and therefore valuation.

In the same way that certain factors may render a stock non-investment grade, so too may ESG factors. In some instances we may screen stocks from our investable universe at our initial risk screening stage due to ESG impacts.

As we treat ESG factors as additional pieces of a company's profile, it follows that our analysts also consider ESG factors within our Qualitative assessment stage.

The evaluation of ESG issues is undertaken by the analyst responsible for the company. Analyst empowerment is an important feature of the Solaris investment process. Every company in the S&P/ASX200 is covered by a dedicated analyst and the decision to include or exclude that company in Solaris' investment portfolios is predominantly the decision of that analyst. ESG evaluation forms part of the analysts' overall assessment of that company. It is important to emphasize that this is not a new aspect of the analyst role. All current analysts have, in their past, had to make ESG evaluations. Solaris also employ an ESG Analyst who provides the analysts with additional information and research capacity where required.

ESG factors are considered at two stages within the Solaris Investment process:

- The initial risk screening stage where Liquidity, Financial, Geo-political, ESG and Litigation risks are assessed. Stocks that fail to pass any of these risk screens are considered non-investment grade and are not included in the Solaris universe.
- Qualitative assessment stage - The criteria examined by our analysts include:
 - Management
 - Business Model
 - ESG factors
 - Balance Sheet
 - Cash Flow profile
 - Trend in Return on Equity

The conclusions drawn by analysts from their qualitative assessment feeds into the appropriate rating applied to each company's valuation. For the most commonly used valuation technique: DCF, this involves adjusting the beta to incorporate positive or negative factors discovered in the qualitative assessment. Accordingly, conclusions drawn from the assessment of a company's ESG activities may affect that company's rating and its valuation.

The main portfolio construction technique that Solaris use is based on expected return. Simply put, if a company has a high expected return that company will, prima facie, be included in the portfolio and equally a low expected return (or negative excess return) will see a company not held in the Solaris portfolios. It follows, therefore, that a poor ESG evaluation may result in the company's valuation being marked down and reducing the company's chances of being included in a Solaris portfolio. Conversely a positive ESG evaluation may result in the company's valuation being upgraded and increase its chances of being included in the portfolio.

In addition Solaris manages three negatively screened portfolios under Individual Mandate agreements (IMAs) where the clients require certain stocks that derive a percentage of their revenues from certain activities to be excluded from consideration for investment. In practicality, these exclusions are considered in the Initial Risk Screening stage and the stocks are excluded from the client's investable universe.

(A) Implementation: Screening

LEI 04	Mandatory	Public	Descriptive	PRI 1
LEI 04.1	Indicate and describe the type of screening you apply to your internally managed active listed equities.

Type of screening

- Negative/exclusionary screening

Screened by

- Product
- Activity
- Sector
- Country/geographic region
- Environmental and social practices and performance
- Corporate governance

Description

Solaris commenced management of one negatively screened client portfolio during 2016, another negatively screened portfolio in 2017 and another in 2019. Those mandates require that stocks are screened based on products, activities and sectors.

All portfolios participate in the Solaris process where active discussion is held around country / geopolitical risks. Where Solaris feels that these risks are too great we may choose to avoid (or screen out) companies with material exposure to those countries. Similarly companies may exhibit behaviours that are assessed as untenable in terms of investment risk. For example (this list is not exhaustive):

- legacy issues relating to pollution or remediation issues
- inappropriate labour use within the supply chain.
- insufficient governance controls or evidence of poor governance leading to other concerns within the company - eg safety failures, exposure to corrupt practices

Companies are assessed on a case by case basis and to date we have excluded a number of stocks on the basis of these concerns.

Positive/best-in-class screening

Screened by

- Product
- Activity
- Sector
- Country/geographic region
- Environmental and social practices and performance
- Corporate governance

Description

Companies that operate in countries or geographic regions that exhibit greater levels of transparency and good governance are typically exposed to less operational risk.

Companies that exhibit leading corporate governance procedures typically have exhibited better risk management strategies and have demonstrated a greater understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing the company.

These companies are typically afforded a governance premium within our valuation assessments.

Norms-based screening

LEI 04.2	Describe how you notify clients and/or beneficiaries when changes are made to your screening criteria.
----------	--

The Solaris screening criteria was formulated as part of our Initial Risk Screening Stage which has been in place for over 16 years. The Initial Risk Screening Stage (of which the ESG screen forms part) is under constant review as an integral part of our investment process.

It is important to Solaris that this remains a fluid process as we review and reflect on the relevance of screens in a rapidly changing world. This process is an internal one and as such has not been communicated to the public to date.

The screening criteria for the negatively screened portfolios is determined by the clients' Individual Mandate Agreements (IMAs). The data for the negatively screened portfolio is reviewed and reflected in the database at least quarterly. A dialogue is required to occur between Solaris management and the clients' representatives to make any alterations to the IMAs.

(Proxy) voting and shareholder resolutions

LEA 12	Mandatory	Public	Descriptive	PRI 2
---------------	------------------	---------------	--------------------	--------------

LEA 12.1 Indicate how you typically make your (proxy) voting decisions.

Approach

- We use our own research or voting team and make voting decisions without the use of service providers.
- We hire service providers who make voting recommendations and/or provide research that we use to guide our voting decisions.

Based on

- The service-provider voting policy we sign off on
- Our own voting policy
- Our clients` requests or policies
- Other (explain)
- We hire service providers who make voting decisions on our behalf, except in some pre-defined scenarios where we review and make voting decisions.
- We hire service providers who make voting decisions on our behalf.

LEA 12.2 Provide an overview of how you ensure that your agreed-upon voting policy is adhered to, giving details of your approach when exceptions to the policy are made.

The ESG Analyst acts as a moderator to ensure that all proxy voting decisions are consistent with the Solaris Voting Policy. A Proxy Voting Database is maintained with rationales for any contentious votes that may have been considered.
